NEW WATER RATES EFFECTIVE MARCH 15, 2009

San Lorenzo Valley Water District Board of Directors approved a new schedule of water rates. At their March 5, 2009 meeting, the Board of Directors approved a twelve (12%) percent increase in water rates effective March 15, 2009, and another eight (8%) increase effective March 15, 2010. The Board however, elected to adopted changes to the schedule of water rates which were ten (10%) less than originally proposed.

On December 18, 2008 the Board of Directors directed staff to proceed with all applicable actions to increase the District's water service rate schedule over a three-year period. The proposed increase in water rates was originally set at 15% in year one (effective March 15, 2009), 10% in year two (effective January 1, 2010), and 5% in year three (effective January 1, 2011). On January 15, 2009 the District mailed written information regarding the proposed multiple year increase in water service charges to 7,289 properties in the District. Property owner were notified that they may object to the proposed increase in water rates by filing a written protest with the District Secretary. If written protest against the proposed rate increase were received from a majority of properties, the Board could not impose the new rates.

A majority protest would require receipt of 3,645 valid protests. The District received a total of 1,571 written protests, of which 222 protests were determined to be invalid.
